

Healthy Ears For Little Kids 1-2 Years

Little kids need healthy ears to listen and learn.
These are the signs that little kids can hear well.

Click yes or no.

Print and paste your own photos or drawing here.

Indicators (Signs that babies can hear well)	Yes	No
Do they talk back to you when you talk to them?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they copy some words or sounds they hear you say?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they usually come or call out to you when you call them from another room?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do their actions show you they hear you? When you ask "Where is ....?", do they look for that person?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Can they point to pictures in the book when you ask them to? 'Where is the ....?'	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they look for cars, planes or boats when they hear them nearby?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Remember! Little kids may have listening problems...
if they have sore or runny ears right now.
if they get sore or runny ears a lot.
if they get a runny nose a lot.
if they have to take medicine for sick ears a lot.

Ticked more blue boxes?
Take the baby to the clinic for a check-up.

