

Healthy Ears For Little Kids 2-3 Years

Little kids need healthy ears to listen and learn.
These are the signs that little kids can hear well.

Click yes or no.

Print and paste your own photos or drawing here.

Indicators (Signs that little kids can hear well)	Yes	No
Do they listen to the TV on low volume?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they usually come or call out to you when you call them from another room?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they look towards the phone when it rings or towards a car driving by?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they show you they hear well by following simple directions like, 'Get the cup and put it on the bench'?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Do they hear what you say the first time?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Remember! Little kids may have listening problems...
if they have sore or runny ears right now.
if they get sore or runny ears a lot.
if they get a runny nose a lot.
if they have to take medicine for sick ears a lot.

Ticked more blue boxes?

Take the child to the clinic for a check-up.

